Welcome to FatherSource™

by National Fatherhood Initiative®!

We're a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization started in 1994 to reverse the nation's trend toward father absence. Our mission is to increase father involvement by equipping communities and human service organizations with the father-engagement training, programs, and resources they need to be father inclusive. Our vision is that all communities and human service organizations are proactively father inclusive so that every child has an involved, responsible, and committed father in their lives.

We accomplish our mission by equipping thousands of human service organizations with affordable and customizable fatherhood programs, fatherhood program training, and fatherhood skill-building resources to work directly with fathers and families.

FatherSource™ by National Fatherhood Initiative® is your partner for high quality resources and programs that build the skills of dads (and moms!) around father involvement. Our evidence-based and evidence-informed programs and budget-friendly resources allow you to find the best tools to help you effectively engage fathers. If you would like assistance selecting programs or resources for the families you serve, just give us a call! We're here to help.

Program Description

24:7 Dad® is an evidence-based fatherhood program in two versions—A.M., a basic skill-building program, and P.M., a more in-depth skill-building program. Diverse organizations across the nation use the program to improve the knowledge, behavior, and skills of dads of all races, religions, and demographics. The program is built on the basis that fathers can be nurturers, and for men, nurturing is a learned skill. Throughout the program, men examine their own fatherhood history, learn the 5 characteristics of a 24:7 Dad, and other important behaviors such as working with mom and proper child discipline to help them be the best dads they can be.

Program Length (Both Versions)

12 core sessions + 1 optional introductory session at approximately 2 hours each.

Program Delivery (Both Versions)

Group setting, delivered by a facilitator(s), or one-on-one (e.g., in a home-based setting).

Program Description

ProFathering15™ by National Fatherhood Initiative® (NFI) is a self-guided, online program for new, expectant, and seasoned dads and father figures that helps them learn how to be a great dad through 15 important fatherhood topics relevant to any dad. Dads can complete each topic in only 15 minutes!

ProFathering15™ is a great alternative for organizations who can't offer a group-based fatherhood program, those who want to use a program with dads one-on-one, or with dads who can't come into a facility due to distance, transportation or other issues.

Who It's For

All dads and father figures. No matter where dads are in their fatherhood journey, ProFathering15™ can help them be the best dads they can be!

Program Contents

- ▶ 15 topics each containing text, short videos, and a short quiz on learning acquisition
- ▶ Pre-Post Survey available for download (upon request)
- ▶ Upon 100% completion of program topics, dad receives a personalized Certificate of Completion

Structure/Length

- ▶ 15 topics take approximately 15 minutes each to complete.
- ▶ Upon enrollment, dads have 60 days to complete the program.

Program Delivery

Self-guided and accessed via the ProFathering15™ online learning platform from any web browser on any device (e.g., desktop, laptop, tablet, or mobile phone).

Incarcerated fathers who create meaningful ties with their children and family on the outside are the best prisoners on the inside. The InsideOut Dad® Guide to Family Ties covers many topics that help incarcerated fathers learn the importance of getting in touch—and staying in touch—with their family, maybe even for the first time. It also helps incarcerated fathers create strong ties between themselves and their children, and between them and the mother(s) of their child(ren).

By connecting with their children, incarcerated fathers are motivated to maintain good behavior to keep visiting rights, which is beneficial for both the facility and correctional officers working with them. In addition, research shows that fathers who connect with their children (and families) prior to release have a higher likelihood of staying out of jail/prison.

Product Description

17 Vital Topics to Discuss with Dads is a valuable resource to aid you in having discussions with dads at any time and in any setting. These 17 topics (see list below) are critical to address when assisting fathers of any race, ethnicity, or socioeconomic background in becoming involved, responsible, and committed dads.

- Each topic is covered in two to three pages. You will find background information on the topic, which includes several important factors to keep in mind when working with fathers on the topic.
- The background information is followed by key learning objectives for fathers that you should build into the type of learning format that you decide to use.
- The topic ends with key questions that fathers should ask themselves on the topic. These key questions are tied to the learning objectives.

Delivery Options

Organizations who work one-on-one with dads can use this guide to lead discussions and facilitate valuable, structured conversations. This guide is extremely helpful to those who make presentations to families in the community, such as at schools or businesses/workplaces, and for those who offer direct services to fathers and wish to delve further into certain topics around involved fatherhood.

Topics Covered

- Topic 1: Family of Origin
- Topic 2: Masculinity and Fatherhood
- Topic 3: Fathering Skills
- Topic 4: Child Development
- Topic 5: Raising Boys, Raising Girls

Product Description

14 Vital Topics to Discuss with Moms is a valuable resource to aid you and your staff in having discussions with moms at any time and in any setting about specific topics related the importance of a father's involvement (see list below) and how she can help to encourage his involvement for the benefit of her children.

- Do you wonder how to convince a mother to encourage the father of her child to be more involved in that child's life?
- Have you tried to convince a mother to allow the father of her child to be more involved only to be thwarted in your attempt?
- Do you work with a mother who can't seem to say one nice thing about the father of their children?
- Do you ever wonder why a certain couple can't seem to put their children first—who think about no one other than themselves?

These are the kinds of questions asked by many staff and practitioners who work with mothers, fathers, and families—and that this guide helps to address.

Delivery Options

Organizations who work one-on-one with moms can use this guide to lead discussions and facilitate valuable, structured conversations—especially in home-visiting and other one-on-one settings. This guide is extremely helpful to those who make presentations to families in the community, such as at schools or businesses/workplaces, and for those who offer direct services to mothers and wish to delve further into certain topics around moms' relationships with dads.

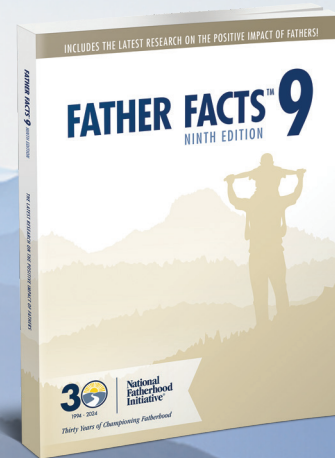

Topics Covered

Product Description

The FatherTopics™ Collection for Non-Custodial Dads consists of five separate 2-hour sessions your organization can run for non-custodial fathers to help them succeed as involved fathers. Your organization can offer 1, 2, 3, or more sessions in any number and combination. Your organization can also add any one or more of them to most National Fatherhood Initiative® (NFI) fatherhood programs or any other fatherhood program.

The collection covers some of the most critical issues faced by non-custodial fathers.

Resource Background:

The City of New York's Department of Youth and Community Development (DYCD) contracted with NFI to create a version of 24:7 Dad® that organizations in the city would use with non-custodial fathers. The resulting DYCD version of 24:7 Dad® included new session content to provide information on some of the most critical issues faced by non-custodial fathers that don't directly address pro-fathering knowledge, attitudes, and skills.

Consequently, NFI decided to use that newly designed content to create FatherTopics™ Collection for Non-Custodial Dads, so that facilitators and organizations across the country could provide these well-received sessions to non-custodial fathers wherever they reside, and regardless of location. The reaction to these field-tested sessions, from facilitators and non-custodial fathers in New York City was overwhelmingly positive.

Deliver Understanding Dad™ alongside 24:7 Dad® A.M. as a co-parenting intervention!

Program Description

Understanding Dad™ is a unique program that helps mothers improve the relationships they have with fathers, for the benefit of their children. This program helps mothers better understand the importance of involving dad in their children's lives and how to better communicate with the father(s) of their child(ren).

Oftentimes, the mothers' gatekeeping behavior that can prevent or reduce fathers' access to their children—when fathers' involvement in their children's lives would actually benefit their children. This program encourages self-awareness and helps moms improve the communications skills they need to improve their relationships with the fathers of their children.

Understanding Dad™ raises mothers' awareness about the importance of father involvement in the lives of their children. It helps mothers to reflect on how their own developmental histories have and continue to influence the relationships with the fathers of their children. It also teaches mothers communication skills to improve the partnership between them and the fathers of their children in raising their children (e.g., co-parenting when mothers and fathers are no longer together).

Kit Contents

- ▶ (1) Understanding Dad™ Facilitator's Manual
- ▶ (10) Understanding Dad™ Mother's Handbooks for use during the program and that the moms can keep
- ▶ (1) Understanding Dad™ USB Flash Drive with supporting resources

Help Me Grow™ Guides

Quick-Reference Guides to Help Dads Participate in their Child's Growth!

Often times, dads are unsure of how to be actively involved with their children as they grow. That's why these unique guides go beyond simple child development charts. They help dads learn about the physical, mental, emotional, and social changes their children will go through (THINGS TO KNOW), and gives them practical ways they can be actively involved in their child's growth based on their age range (WAYS TO GROW). Available in three age-ranges below.

WAYS TO GROW

- 1 Praise your child for cooperation and learning new skills and knowledge.
- 2 Ask your child to talk about his/her world (school and friends). Listen carefully and remember what he/she says. Answer your child's questions.
- 3 Tell your child to show feelings. Role model by showing yours. This is very important for boys.
- 4 Read to and with your child. Tell your child to read alone.
- 5 Spend alone time with your child doing something both of you enjoy. This is really important if you have other children.
- 6 Expand your child's world through family trips and outings.
- 7 Help your child learn how to get along with peers.
- 8 Help your child learn how to follow group rules.

A DAD'S GUIDE TO THE AGES & STAGES OF CHILD GROWTH

- 9 Promote daily, safe physical activity. Watch TV habits and limit amount of TV and computer use.
- 10 Set limits and clear rules for discipline and punishment for bad behavior.
- 11 Help your child to discipline him/herself and to control impulses.
- 12 Expect your child to follow family rules, such as those at bedtime, TV watching, and doing chores. Don't pay your child (an allowance) for chores.
- 13 Teach your child to respect others/people in charge.
- 14 Help your child's ability to communicate with you, teachers, and other adults by going to school.
- 15 Tell your child often the difference between right and wrong.
- 16 Teach your child how to manage anger and resolve conflicts without physical or emotional violence.
- 17 Set a limit on the amount of "screen time" your child may have and stick to it. Screen time refers to the time your child spends viewing something on a "media device" with a screen: TV, computer (desktop or laptop), tablet, mobile device used to play games, etc. Make sure media devices do not harm sleep, physical activity, and other actions vital to your child's health. Work with your child to choose times to not use media devices, such as at dinner and when driving. Work with them to choose parts of your home where they cannot use media devices, such as in bedrooms. Talk with them about being a good "online citizen" who treats others with respect online. Talk with them about keeping themselves safe while online.

6 | HELP ME GROW™

©2012, 2018 National Fatherhood Initiative®

www.fatherhood.org | 7

With contributions from Dr. Kyle Pruett and Dr. Yvette Warren, Help Me Grow: A Dad's Guide to the Ages and Stages of Child Growth covers everything dads need to know about what to expect and not to expect in terms of child growth and development.

In reviewing the charts in these guides, dad learns about the physical, mental/emotional, and social changes his child will go through. The guides also include tips for dad to help his child grow, thus helping him to be a more involved, responsible father.

Knowing that children grow at different rates, the main thing is that his child is able to do these things at some point, even if at a later age. Dad can also share the charts with his child's mother so that she'll know what to expect as well!

“Just the Facts” Posters Help Staff Members—and Clients—Understand Important Facts about Father Involvement

Keep father involvement top-of-mind for both clients and staff.

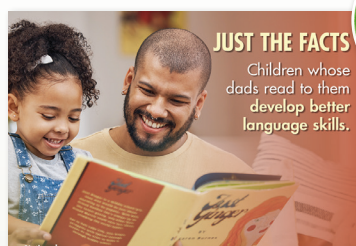

Our strengths-based Father Facts posters highlight some of the most important and applicable data on the benefits of father involvement. Display the posters in your center to show your dedication to increasing the number of children who grow up with involved fathers. Or, display them during your fatherhood program sessions to generate discussions and help fathers understand their important role.

Designed in a standard 22” x 28” poster size for easy framing.
